When dreams become reality

With just one look from your terrace you will understand why Istria is called Terra Magica, a land that has been celebrated by world writers throughout the centuries and visited by many artists. We are talking about a peninsula that today is a well known tourist destination, but also an endlessly beautiful and scenic landscape where you will feel the richness of history and cultural heritage. Strategically located in the interior of the peninsula our villas give you the privacy and peace you need, with an amazing view of the whole region. The blue sea, the green meadows, the smell of forests and hills with historic towns that carry their mythical tales with a glass of famous Istrian wine and golden sun rays will only be one in a series of experiences that will seduce you and permanently tie you to this special, fairytale place.
